

71

Canadian Studies in Economics • No. 3

CANADIAN STUDIES IN ECONOMICS

A series of studies sponsored by the Canadian Social Science Research Council, and edited by V. W. Bladen.

1. International Cycles and Canada's Balance of Payments, 1921-33. By Vernon W. Malach.
2. Capital Formation in Canada, 1896-1930. By Kenneth Buckley.
3. Natural Resources: The Economics of Conservation. By Anthony Scott.
4. The Canadian Nickel Industry. By O. W. Main.
5. Bank of Canada Operations, 1935-52. By E. P. Neufeld.

Natural Resources:
The Economics of Conservation

By

ANTHONY SCOTT

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS: 1955

BIBLIOTECA

CENTRO NACIONAL INVESTIGACIONES

Nº 1276

31 AGO 1998

Copyright, Canada, 1955
University of Toronto Press
Printed in Canada
Reprinted 1958

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
PART I: THE THEORY OF NATURAL RESOURCES AND THE PRACTICE OF CONSERVATION
1. The Theory of Use	3
2. The Meaning of Conservation	16
3. Conservation in Practice	23
PART II: CRITERIA FOR CONSERVATION
4. Motives for Conservation	57
5. The Social Benefits of Conservation	58
6. Conservation for Defence and Employment	67
7. Ignorance, Risk, and Monopoly	74
8. A Social Rate of Interest	88
9. Conservation and Intervention	99
PART III: THE ECONOMICS OF CONSERVATION MEASURES
10. Conservation by Socialization, Compulsion, and "Liaison"	105
11. Conservation and Resource Tenure	117
12. Conservation and Taxation	130
Notes	153
Bibliography	176
Index	177

